Operation Healing Forces (OHF) announces its new partnership with HatchPath, an innovative personal wellness platform providing transformative experiences aimed at helping individuals unlock their full potential and achieve a balanced and fulfilling life.

OHF is committed to serving the needs of the Special Operations Forces (SOF) community and providing meaningful, effective, and timely support to SOF Service Members, SOF Veterans, their families, and their caregivers. Through this groundbreaking collaboration, OHF will provide members of America's Special Operations community with no-cost access to HatchPath's premier holistic wellness platform comprised of hundreds of qualified and vetted coaches from notable institutions.

HatchPath offers a range of holistic health solutions in areas such as fitness, nutrition, mindfulness, chronic illness, relationship and family coaching, entrepreneurship guidance, anxiety support, and many other life coaching areas. A wide array of coaches with specialized expertise in these fields will be available to the SOF community via HatchPath's convenient and easily accessible platform.

As an organization that serves a very elite and highly trained segment of the United States military, OHF is committed to partnering with organizations that can match SOF's dedication and commitment to its mission. "OHF is keenly aware of the unique challenges the community we serve faces and strongly believes in the benefits of holistic approaches to health and well-being," said Kerry Irvin, CEO of Operation Healing Forces. "This new partnership is consistent with OHF's comprehensive approach to wellness, and our goal of removing barriers to care as we work daily to Create Bonds That Cure™ within the Special Operations community".

Through OHF, booking a preferred coach on the HatchPath platform is effortless and reliable and provides users with coaching support from the comfort of their home at a time of their choosing. Users can browse through the network of coaches based on their unique needs and goals. "Many aspects of daily life such as nutrition, fitness, mindfulness, holistic pain management, healthy relationships, and financial management are integral factors to health and are intrinsically linked to overall well-being. The fact that both Hatchpath and Operation Healing Forces focus their efforts on providing reliable access to wellness resources makes this a natural partnership,” said Jordan Dunin, HatchPath CEO and Founder.
